

Greater Wilton Woods Citizens' Association Annual Business Meeting--Minutes January 20, 2004

Sam announced that the Fairfax County Police Chief has resigned. He suggested that GWWCA express support to the county in favor of selecting Suzanne Devlin, who spoke to the GWWCA last September. Sam will send out a message to all members via e-mail soliciting opinions. If majority responses are in favor, Sam will send the letter to the county on GWWCA letterhead.

Browne Academy is sponsoring a blood drive on March 13. For information on registering to donate blood, call Mort Dukehart at Browne Academy, 960-3000.

Sam introduced a representative from the Congressional Federal Credit Union, which is offering free lifetime memberships to all GWWCA members and members of their immediate families. This credit union was established in 1953. There are currently 50,000 members. Membership benefits include online bill paying, online banking, car loans, mortgages, and free financial consulting. There are four locations on Capitol Hill, one in Oakton, VA, and they participate with banking facilities at Springfield Plaza and Falls Church. The rep left some informational pamphlets with Sam.

Dan Franklin presented his road and pedestrian safety project. Dan presented photos of area roads where signs, lighting, bike paths, crosswalks etc. are insufficient for safe vehicular and/or pedestrian traffic. Dan reminded the community of future road projects and building developments which will further impact our area's traffic and pedestrian concerns. Dan emphasized the importance of our involvement in future project planning to ensure that these needs are met. Dan sent a memo to Dana Kaufman's office, who forwarded it to Mark

Sickles. Both offices indicated an interest in helping to address our concerns. Dan will attend an upcoming meeting with Burgundy Village to obtain information on future projects related to the Telegraph Rd. interchange with the beltway. Sam has frequently attended meetings of area citizens' and homeowners' groups, in which this type of topic is often discussed. Dan agreed to take over this responsibility.

Sam asked for a volunteer to put up and take down GWWCA meeting signs six times per year at meeting time. Larry Dempsey volunteered to take this on.

Meeting adjourned at 8:30.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, March 16.
